

of opioids and benzodiazepines. These may sedate the patient and therefore communication with the patient, if possible, and the relatives is essential. If needed seek specialist advice.

If symptoms not controlled, seek medical/specialist advice